

NETmicroplastic

A sustainable network to tackle the many knowledge gaps concerning microplastic in agricultural soil

In NETmicroplastic, the AIT Austrian Institute of Technology together with stakeholders from Austria, Germany, Spain and the Netherlands is creating a community-supported environment that will provide solid data for science-based impact assessment of microplastic in soil and develop biodegradable alternatives to conventional plastic.

JOIN US!

Interested to be part of the network? Get in touch.
info@net-microplastic.eu

NETmicroplastic will organize and coordinate activities and stakeholder events – the first one in spring 2023, expand RTI from Lower Austria to National and European levels, address knowledge gaps and develop concepts for more sustainable solutions, contribute to knowledge transfer between research and practice, initiate research activities at national and European level and contribute to solving current and future social, economic, ecological and technological challenges related to microplastic use on agricultural land.

info@net-microplastic.eu

WISSENSCHAFT • FORSCHUNG
NIEDERÖSTERREICH

FTI-STRATEGIE
NIEDERÖSTERREICH
2021–2027

GESELLSCHAFT FÜR
FORSCHUNG
FÖRDERUNG
NIEDERÖSTERREICH

FUNDED AS PART OF THE RTI-STRATEGY LOWER AUSTRIA 2027